Validus Pharmaceuticals is providing you with Wholesale Acquisition Cost (WAC) information* for its product in compliance with amendments to the Colorado Revised Statutes, specifically, CRS § 12-42.5-308. These amendments require drug manufacturers to provide, in writing, the WAC and at the names of at least three generic prescription drugs from the same “therapeutic class”, if available, when they provide educational or marketing information concerning their products to Colorado prescribers. Colorado defines “therapeutic class” as “a group of similar drugs that have the same or similar mechanisms of action and are used to treat a specific condition.”

This list does not imply that the products are interchangeable or have the same efficacy or safety. Please refer to each product's FDA-approved label and indication for further information.*

*WAC¹, as published by independent third-party pricing publishers, represents the manufacturer’s published catalog or list price for a drug product to wholesalers as reported by the manufacturer. WAC does not represent actual transaction prices or include discounts, rebates, or reductions in price. In most cases, the price paid by patients for a product will be different from the product's published WAC and will vary based on dosing, insurance coverage and their eligibility for support programs.

Pricing information listed does not imply safety or efficacy of the product. To access approved prescribing information for the listed product, see: <https://raldesy.com>.
